graphic artist for a large screenprinting company while free lancing for other companies and publishers, such as doing clipart for digital solutions in tempe, az. Calot of my recent work reflects my love for ancient history, mostly rome and greece, most of my clipart is done in my comicbook style, i enjoy almost anything creative which has lead me to try many challenges such as designing basketball courts, statues, balloons, logos, portraits, billboards and banners, alittle of everything really. Či hope everyone will enjoy my prints and thank you for stopping by my gallery.<|end_of_text|>Global Warming Threatens Baltic Sea Marine LifeČBy Alister Doyle, Environment CorrespondentČOSLO âGK Global warming is adding new threats to marine life in the almost land-locked Baltic Sea, where fish are already struggling in polluted, brackish waters, a leading expert said on Wednesday. ĊâGlThe Baltic Sea is already in bad shape âG life there is in a very delicate balance,âGL Hans von Storch, a professor at the Institute of Coastal Research in Germany who chairs a group of 80 scientists from 12 nations studying the Baltic, told Reuters
